RETURNING TO "SAVE AMERICA," GOLDMAN SAYS

Anarchist and Companion, Berkman, Irritated at Their Deportation.

BUFORD REACHES FINLAND

Two Hundred Forty-Nine Reds Aboard Will Be Promptly Transferred to Russian Soil; Trip Across Atlantic Irksome to Members Radical Party.

By Associated Press.

HANGO, Finland, Friday, Jan. 16.—The United States Army transport Buford having on board 249 radicals deported from America arrived here this afternoon. Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, who have been considered the leaders of the deportees, have declared they will not remain in Russia but will "return to America to save it."

The Reds on board the Buford will be taken to the Russian frontier by United States labor and immigration officials. After the Buford had been docked Berkman and Miss Goldman led a procession of radicals down the gangplank, a large number of persons assembled on the wharf gazing curiously at the landing.

Berkman and Miss Goldman talked willingly with newspaper men. Asked to give her opinion of her deportation the latter replied.

"It was melodrama to keep it secret."

"It was unfair and stupid," interjected Berkman. "You can't kill an idea like that. The czar tried and failed. He is dead and forgotten."

"Do you want to overthrow the American government?" Miss Goldman was asked.

"You need a new government and I hope the election will provide it. I shall not impose my advice on the Russian government but shall remain affiliated with the Bolsheviki. I hold my deportation was an injustice. We were not given a chance to prepare for it."

Miss Goldman drew sharp distinction between Bolshevism as it is known in America and Germany and as it is practiced in Russia and explained the significance of world bolshevism or anarchy. She asserted it was nearly 200 years old and meant approximately a brotherhood which disproves all government and demands equality among all citizens and a division of all clothing, supplies and products. She evaded making any reply when objections were raised to this program. "Bolshevism of my kind, not the American or German sort, can never be suppressed," she said.

Berkman said he would write a number of Russian sketches. Asked if the Reds would confine their activity to politics he replied they would be employed in mines but naturally would participate in political matters. He declared he would form a "league of Russian friends of America," the efforts of which would reciprocate the American friends of Russia. Of the latter organization he said:

"It has grown so eminently respectable that even former President Taft is a member."

The Bolsheviki led a monotonous life which was made more irksome because of stormy weather when they could not be given their daily exercise on deck. Their greatest pleasure seemed to be singing "Red" songs, including the "Song of Hate." It was sung with remarkable vim over and over again, many of the singers having fine voices.

The Reds were forbidden to hold meetings on deck but made up for lost time when confined to their quarters.

"Well, is there any way I could help you to fix it?" she asked.

Somewhat taken back, the superintendent said that the trouble was at the river crossing.

"Could you wade the river?" he asked.

"Oh no," came the reply, "you'll have to count me out. I haven't had my feet wet for years."

NAVY DEPARTMENT 10 MONTHS AFTER U. S. ENTRY INTO WAR IN ARRIVING AT PLAN OF ACTION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Rear Admiral Sims told the senate committee investigating naval awards today that he was ordered to England in March, 1917, just before the United States entered the war, he was instructed by the Navy Department "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes," and that "we would just as soon fight the British as the central powers."

The admiral also charged that the American naval headquarters in London did not receive cooperation from the Navy Department and that the department did not arrive at any decided plan of action until 10 months after he arrived in London. He added that "it was 10 months before we really came to the aid of the Allies or acted on their recommendations."

Admiral Sims' testimony was in the form of a letter to Secretary Daniels entitled "Some Naval Lessons of the Great War" which Mr. Daniels received several days ago.

The letter criticized the department for attempting to administer the details of action by the American Naval forces overseas and alleged that the department demanded that it be permitted to pass fully on all plans, even those regarding action against the enemy.

Characterizing the alleged attitude of the department as "a terrible thing," Senator McCormick, Republican, of Illinois said:

"I believe we will have to go to the Naval Affairs committee of the Senate for further instructions for authority to investigate the entire matter of the attitude of the Navy Department toward Admiral Sims' mission."

Several Stitches Required to Close Wound In Head; Horse Takes Fright and Runs Away.

The accident occurred while Mr. Dunn was taking his horse and wagon to the livery stable after completing a day's delivery. As he was making the turn the wagon skidded and there being a sharp dip on the curve the wagon overturned, throwing Mr. Dunn to the ground.

The horse, frightened, ran away. The injured man was carried into the home of Frank Fort and a physician called. Later he was removed to the hospital.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Quick Stop By Engineer Prevents Fatalities on West Side.

A quick stop by a Pennsylvania railroad engineer, piloting the train which arrives in this city from Uniontown at 2:55 o'clock in the afternoon, saved the lives of Charles Rush and W. H. Deffenbaugh yesterday when their automobile was struck at the Fourth street crossing in the West Side. The men had come to this city for a load of mattresses and were returning when the accident occurred. The driver of the machine, Deffenbaugh, heard the train coming but made his stop too late, the front wheels resting on the tracks. The train struck the wheels and knocked the machine into a pole, destroying it.

Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt and Councilman Jesse Cypher who witnessed the accident helped the men to escape from beneath the broken automobile. Neither was seriously injured. The accident occurred on the same crossing where Peter J. O'Connor was killed in June.

Otherwise, Except in Prayer Services, Passing Attracts Little Notice.

The passing of John Barleycorn in Fayette county attracted little attention outside of those most vitally interested, the liquor dealers and those who feel they must have a drink now and then. There was none of the hilarity that attended the night before the advent of war-time prohibition in July, last, for the reason that the bars did not dispense the beverages then permitted.

According to reports, however, a lot of liquor found new places of storage during the final hours before constitutional prohibition became effective at midnight last night. Under the law it is illegal to transport it today. Knowing this persons seeing a supply in sight made sure that it was stored away in their homes.

Unless there is some action yet by the Supreme court which might upset the dreams of the prohibitionists, it is expected hotelmen will shortly determine finally what is to become of their hostelries. It is reported negotiations have been in progress for some time for use of ground floors of one or two of the hotels for other purposes. These deals have been held in abeyance pending determination of the fate of the liquor business. For the most part the dealers before now gave up hope that the nation's supreme tribunal might reverse the action of the state legislatures in approving the constitutional amendment.

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance union in various parts of the county formally observed the passing of the business against which they have fought for many years. In Connellsville services were held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Carroll in South Prospect street. The attendance was not large but those who came were reported to

STORM CAUSES SHORT CIRCUIT; CITY IS IN DARKNESS FOR HOURS

Trouble is Confined to Connellsville; Movies, Basketball Game and Business Houses Affected.

When the high wind last night caused the wires of the West Penn company, supplying light to homes and business places here, to blow together and the sleet helped make a short circuit, it was necessary to turn the current off for about two hours and a half last night, leaving the city in entire darkness with the exception of the street lights.

When the wires were short circuited the biggest arc ever witnessed by local electricians illuminated the affected section. The light from the arc could be seen for miles about the city. There are 30 wires across the river at that point and it seemed as though all suddenly became one continuous blue light.

With all the power off, there was a rush for candles and oil lamps. Theatre audiences were dismissed and many other programs arranged throughout the city were marred by the lack of light.

The lighting trouble affected Connellsville only. First report in the city was that the wire had gone into the river. This proved to be incorrect.

In addition to the lighting trouble which spoiled the shows, basketball and volley ball games arranged for the evening, those making up the audience had difficult times getting to their homes after being dismissed. A combination of rain and sleet which fell from 6 o'clock until nearly midnight covered the streets and keeping one's balance was difficult.

The trouble with the city's public utilities seemed to come all at once, the power shortage following the low gas supply caused during the day by a break in the main.

HIGH PRICE FOR LEGHORNS

Former Fayette County School Superintendent Sells 21 for $500.

Five hundred dollars for 21 white leghorns is a good price to get for poultry even in this age of high prices but this is what Dr. L. M. Herrington of McKees Rocks got this month in a sale just closed. The sale was made to Oakdale farm, LeRoy, Minn. Last year the doctor sold one cock to Hillview farm for $100. This cock took first prize at the big Chicago poultry show last year.

Dr. Herrington was formerly principal of the Connellsville schools and county superintendent of the Fayette county schools for two terms, and has many friends and relatives in different parts of Fayette county. While he is very busy professionally he has found time to indulge his fancy for fine poultry on the side, and the above sales indicate that his success is not confined to his profession. Mrs. Herrington was formerly Miss Nora Shaw of Connellsville, one of the then most successful teachers of the county.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine

129 SOUTH PITTSBURG STREET.

...onial Inn, on Which Builder, L. F. Ruth, Lavished Money, Soon to be Razed to Give Place for New Methodist Episcopal Church

The old Ruth homestead in South Pittsburg street, more familiarly known to Connellsville residents at the Colonial Inn, will pass into final ownership on Saturday afternoon, January 24, at a public auction to be called at 2 o'clock. The homestead and other buildings on the property are being offered for sale by the First Methodist Episcopal church, which congregation will erect a beautiful new edifice there.

The inn, which was built 30 years ago by L. F. Ruth, president of the Title & Trust bank of this city, holds a fond place in the hearts of many people in Connellsville, especially its builder. Mr. Ruth, who lavished money upon the house and grounds when it was his home, speaks warmly of the years spent there. Others who associated with his family have fond memories of good times spent there and there are perhaps hundreds in the city who have attended dances and entertainments given within its walls in recent years since Mr. Ruth disposed of the property.

The original house erected by Mr. Ruth is now completely encompassed by additions made from time to time. There is no part of the first house showing. The first structure was erected 30 years ago. Mr. Ruth purchasing the property from the late A. B. Morton. Later he bought the house of M. B. Sproat, which was next to his. This house he gave to the Christian church for a parsonage. It still being occupied by the pastor of that church. It was moved to Race street. The additional space allowed room for more building and he added the present music room."

Some time after that he purchased the property which he transformed into the English garden. "I guess it is a wild garden now," Mr. Ruth commented. On this property, which was owned by Robert Soisson, were two houses. When Lincoln avenue was opened up he sold them to Sam F. Hood and J. W. McClaren, who moved the buildings across the street, where they still stand.

Mr. Ruth made extensive improvements to this property, building an English garden which he surrounded by a wall. He estimated that the complete cost of the garden, including the purchase of the property and improvements, was close to $30,000. "I paid more for the garden and two houses than the Methodist church is paying for the entire property," he said. This was about 14 years ago.

In 1912 Mr. Ruth sold his home to W. F. Patterson of Waynesburg for $60,000. Later the new owners disposed of it. Since Mr. Ruth sold the house, it has been practically unimproved. The garden has been allowed to deteriorate and the house to run down.

Within the walls of the Colonial Inn, however, will be found the finest woodwork in any residence in the city. The entire front of the music hall is of cut glass windows. Exquisitely carved mantles and other beautiful architecture are found throughout the house.

The Colonial Inn has always been the mecca of younger social sets which entertained at small dances or parties. Time and again the walls of the place have rung with laughter of merry makers. Now the passing o the most interesting property in the city is to be marked by an auction sale.

The Methodist congregation is securing the property as a church site, and will have one of the best locations in the city. The site is very desirable and the church, built on the slight rise of the hill, will be displayed to its greatest advantage.

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 17, 1920.

OUR DUTY AS A GOOD NEIGHBOR.

The council of South Connellsville is deserving of encouragement and the heartiest kind of cooperation on the part of the residents of that borough and also of the residents of Connellsville. In the effort that is being made to revive the proposition to build a bridge across the Yough as a part of the Direct-to-Dunbar route the new councilmanic body of South Connellsville is showing an appreciation of the needs of their municipality and is setting about in a systematic and thorough manner to provide it.

It is no longer a question of demonstrating the necessity for the contemplated improvement. That has been conceded. A board of viewers reported favorably upon the proposition in 1915. Had not America's participancy in the war occupied all our energies and resources in the meantime, and acted as a stop to all projects of this kind, it is highly probable that the bridge would have been completed and in use a year or more ago. Now that the country is slowly but surely resuming a peace-time basis, and expansion along every line is essential to meet the demands of after-the-war opportunities, those communities which make the best preparation will be the most richly rewarded.

In being cut off from a closely neighboring section which should contribute materially to its prosperity, South Connellsville and Connellsville as well, suffer a serious handicap. With a more direct inter-communication means would be available to add to the growth and expansion of the isolated section and also of the two municipalities. These facts have been so clearly established that they no longer admit or argument or require proof. Convinced of these things the supporters of the bridge project consider a revival of interest as the important and necessary step at this time in order that the matter may be presented to the attention of the next grand jury.

While South Connellsville will be the direct beneficiary of the proposed improvement Connellsville will profit from it equally with our neighbor to the south. For all practical purposes, considered from an industrial and business standpoint, there is no line of division between the two municipalities. We are but parts of one community with the same interests and needs and ought to have the same earnestness of desire to promote our collective advancement and prosperity.

Connellsville should, therefore, welcome every opportunity to boost South Connellsville enterprises in the same zealous and disinterested manner that the new administration of the borough has expressed its intention of doing for both municipalities.

Our duty as a good neighbor then, as it relates to the Direct-to-Dunbar bridge, is to join hands with South Connellsville's public-spirited citizens and help them to realize their ambition to put a good thing across in the form of a more convenient crossing of the Yough.

SEVEREST HARDSHIP UPON COAL PRODUCERS.

Another of the distressed producers of coal have been obliged to suffer under the beneficent rule of the Railroad Administration, in addition to those to which attention has already been directed in these columns, is the inconvenience and loss arising from delay in receiving payment for the coal shipped to the four winds under confiscation and diversion orders. The effect upon producers and shippers is thus clearly set forth by the Pittsburg Coal Trade Bulletin, which says:

A large majority of the bituminous shippers of the country just now are at their wits ends to finance their operations and keep them running, because of the plight in which they have been placed by the Fuel and Railroad administrations through diversion of coal enroute. Many of the operators whose capital and banking facilities are limited face absolute ruin.

Producers and shippers today are seeking, vainly, to learn where coal shipped from their mines in October last has been diverted, to whom delivered, and to whom they must look for their pay.

It will be recalled that, at the opening of the coal strike or shortly thereafter, Fuel Administrator Garfield issued a confiscatory order and through the Railroad Administration distributed the coal thus seized and then moving, as well as that mined later, regardless of original consignment. The producer of any of that diverted product who has been paid for it is extremely lucky. The fact is approximately 90 per cent of the tonnage produced during the strike was diverted. Practically none of this coal has been paid for. The producer doesn't know who received it and neither the Fuel or Railroad administration seemingly make any effective effort to help him out.

Coal shipped from mines in the Pittsburg or West Virginia district to steel plants in the Pittsburg or Mahoning Valley districts in October turns up since the holidays on a siding in Minnesota or Nebraska without any record of how it got there. Railroad officials start asking fool questions of the producer (for his card somehow has managed to stick on the car); such as what roads it was shipped over, who ordered the shipment, why the car was left at that particular point, etc. The operator doesn't know, has no method of finding out, and doesn't give two whoops anyway. What he wants is pay for the coal that to all intents has been filched from him.

The mess thus has resulted in a situation that is intolerable. With the exception of the strongest financial corporations engaged in the industry the operators are placed in a bad financial position. They have hundreds of thousands of tons of coal worth many more hundreds of thousands of dollars somewhere for which they have paid mining costs, overhead expenses, and other charges, and have no return. Their working capital thus is tied up. Banks with which they deal have advanced them all the money allowable under the law. They do not have liquid resources on which to realize to meet the situation. The fact is unless some relief is afforded them quickly operations will close down, either through receiverships or inability of the mine owner to get cash to meet operating expenses.

This is working the severest hardship of all upon the coal industry and for which there is neither justification nor excuse. When the Fuel Administration was functioning during the war, under district representatives who knew their business, shippers were kept informed of the disposition made of their cars in cases of diversion from original destination, and no trouble was experienced in securing prompt payment for them.

Although efforts have been made to provide relief from the present situation they have been only partial successful. They are not likely to become more so while the Railroad Administration continues to essay the role of Pooh-bah to both the fuel and the transportation industries.

It is, of course, from the most disinterested motives that Attorney General Palmer takes the public into his confidence when announcing that "the President realizes that there is a certain sentiment throughout the country against the chief executive running for a third time, and, while he has not made any definite declaration that he will not be a candidate this year, his personal friends know he will not even consider it."

Hitchcock and Underwood seem to be running for leadership of the Democratic Senators on the "no reservation" platform.

It was about the most cheerful "wake" the celebrants ever attended.

Church services will be at the usual hours tomorrow.

The Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania, Congress, the League of Nations—not even the Democratic party—can interest the gas company promoters in a scheme to restrict production.

When the "wets" lined up yesterday for the end of the moist season the world came no nearer an end than it did some weeks ago when seven planets lined up with the sun, confident expectations to the contrary notwithstanding.

If expectations are realized when the Bullskin township gas field comes in, the McKeesport field ought to be skinned several million feet.

Does the Administration see in the defeat of Clemenceau as a candidate for the presidency of France any signs or portents of the fate of the rest of the "Big Four?"

Even the weatherman helped to make the dryness complete yesterday by freezing everything up tight.

They do say that the resort literature from Cuba, Canada and other localities possessing a "moist" climate has never before been quite so much in demand or so industriously studied.

The old time prescription of carrying a pebble in the mouth to relieve a parched feeling in the throat may not become popular but it may be necessary to be used in some extreme cases.

The Jugo-Slavs are disposed to show their determination not to yield to the exercise of self-determination by the Dalmatians.

The machine for the enforcement of prohibition will need a full equipment of non-skid tires to safely negotiate some of the "wet" places along "the great dry way."

The Test of Prohibition.

Latrobe Bulletin.

In many respects, the prohibition enforcement law is going to test a man's degree of desire to be law-observing, rather than subject him to any great liability of detection. In the event of a departure from the strict letter of the law, as long as the departure doesn't consist of a sale itself.

But it would be just a fellow's luck in case he should store a bottle in the flap of an automobile, to have the cork come out, or something else happen, within smelling distance of a third party who might happen either to be thirsty, or a wearer of a little silver badge.

Merely An Almanac Prediction.

Let's see. Wasn't Mr. Palmer promising cheaper living costs just about now?

BUD'S HAT.

It's funny 'bout a feller's hat—
He can't remember where it's at,
Or where he took it off, or when.
The time he's wantin' it again:
He knows just where he leaves his shoes,
His sweater he won't often lose.
An' he can find his rubbers, but
He can't tell where his hat is put.

A feller's hat gets anywhere.
Sometimes he'll find it in a chair,
Or on the sideboard, or maybe
It's in the kitchen, just where he
Gave it a toss beside the sink
When he came in to get a drink,
An' then forgot—but anyhow,
He never knows where it is now.

A feller's hat is never where
He thinks it is when he goes there;
It's never any use to look
For it upon a closet hook,
Coz it is always in some place
It shouldn't be, to his disgrace,
An' he will find it, like as not,
Behind some radiator hot.

A feller's hat can get away
From him most any time of day,
So he can't ever find it when
He wants it to go out again;
It hides in corners dark an' grim
An' seems to want to bother him.
It disappears from sight somehow—
I wish I knew where mine is now.

First Machinery for Sherman-Stiveson Company Received.

WILL MAKE PNEUMATIC TIRES

Later the Company Plans to Turn Attention to a New Device In This Line; Ellsworth Post of G. A. R. Installs Officers; News of the Day.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, Jan. 17.—The Sherman-Stiveson Rubber company of North Scottdale has received its first shipment of machinery and installation will begin immediately. It is thought that operations will be begun at the plant in the early spring. This plant will employ about 150 men and the output will be 500 tires a day. This will be practically all piece work. The plant will make first a pneumatic tire to be known as the Sherman-Stiveson puncture-proof tire. Later another tire will be made. Mr. Simms will leave next week to have the first one of these tires built. This tire will be pneumatic but will be built so that the tube is embodied. Engineers who have looked over this patent tire say it is the best they have ever seen and minus the faults found in other patent tires.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"HIS DIVORCED WIFE"—With Monroe Salisbury in the leading role, is being shown today.

Salisbury is seen in his newest Universal production as Ash Whipple, a sterling young mountaineer blacksmith whose forge, like his home, is located on the rugged side of Little Thunder Mountain, in Kentucky. He is a respected man in the community and besides is known as the best blacksmith in that part of the country. He wins the girl of his choice, but even then his rivals for the girl's hand are not content to let him enjoy his home and family. An ex-convict whom the blacksmith has befriended attempts to uphold his friend's honor. A man is killed and the blacksmith's enemies accuse and convict him of the crime, after which his wife obtains a divorce.

Salisbury appeals to the majority of any audience, and "His Divorced Wife" is a typical Salisbury production with, of course, the added value of a new story and new surroundings. In the role of Ash Whipple he is offered another of those virile types which his admirers have come to expect of him.

THE SOISSON.

"COME ALONG MARY"—The new Wesleyan-Paul musical success, with a big company of 40 people, will be the attraction Wednesday afternoon and evening. The production is as clean, as entertaining, and as melodious as any musical comedy on the road. With a sweet tune, and a laugh all the way through, plus a plot that carries a lot better than most musical comedy plots it cannot but live considerably longer than ordinary shows and grow more popular with age.

A company of unusual merit, with a bearing that stamps each and everyone with the approval of the most critical, handles "Come Along Mary" in an excellent manner The costumes are tasty and of the latest designs, the secenery the most elaborate we have seen this season, and the music is far above the ordinary.

There is a pretty chorus who furnish a lot of good dancing and all in all we hope "Mary" will "come along" for a return date ere the season passes by.

THE SOISSON.

"THE GIRL FROM NOWHERE"—Starring Cleo Madison and Wilfred Lucas, is today's feature attraction

"The Girl from Nowhere" is a romance of love, of mystery, of tragedy, of hearts of gold and of cruel villainy.

Swift and wild as a mountain torrent rushes this tale of the great northland. In the silence of rugged nature, a helpless woman is placed at the mercy of the passions of uncouth men—passions unrestrained by the laws of regulated society. But even here on this far flung fringe of civilization, red blooded manhood stands ready to sacrifice itself to protect defenseless purity.

"The Girl from Nowhere" proves that virtue is stronger than base desires—shows that a heart of pure gold can beat under a rough and rugged breast—and it teaches that no matter how craftily a man may conceal his wrongdoing, in the bitter end his sin will find him out.

CONSTANT BRONCHIAL COUGH FOR 16 YEARS

Then Mrs. Crawshaw stopped her cough so quickly it alarmed her.

"I suffered with bronchial trouble and asthma for 16 years. In January, 1904, I had an unusually severe spell, resulting in pneumonia and was confined to bed for 4 months. Then I began to mend, but my cough never left

"The following October, I tried Milks Emulsion. After a few days my cough gave way, and ceased entirely after another bottle—so sudden that I became alarmed. Getting over my fear, I took 6 bottles more. For 9 months previous I had coughed night and day but my cough ceased entirely For 16 years I used all kinds of medicines until I became skeptical But the results from Milks Emulsion were nothing short of marvelous"—Mrs J B Crawshaw, 1178 Grand Ave, Des Moines, Iowa.

For bronchial or other severe coughs, or hard colds, Milks Emulsion is really remarkable. The system is built up and strengthened to throw off the trouble.

Keeping friend Husband's Admiration

Has it ever occurred to you that there is a close relationshio between admiration and laundry service?

Admiration springs not alone from charm of manner. It has its origin equally in physical grace; it is awakened in men by that quality in woman called daintiness—that quality which is a combination of complexion, of carriage, of trimness, of hands well kept. Friend Husband was attracted by them in the beginning—and he admires them yet.

But nothing is so ruinous to daintiness as the toil of washday; the bending over washboards and the coarsening of hands that comes from contact with heavy soap and wash water. More than all other household duties, the family washing is destructive of personal charm.

Yet this wastage of the daintiness that is yours is needless in this day and age. If you will but say the word we will do the washing for you—do it economically and as thoroughly as you would yourself.

Try us. Let us relieve you of the noisome labor of washday. Just telephone and we will have our driver call.

SUBJECT CONSCIOUS DURING MAJOR OPERATION UNDER NEW ANAESTHETIC JUST PRODUCED

By Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 17.—Development of a new anaesthetic "which eliminates pain without loss of consciousness and produces virtually no nausea" was announced here today by E. I. DuPont, DeNemours & Company. The discovery, it was claimed, would permit elimination of pain not only in obstetrical cases and dressing of wounds but in dentistry.

The anaesthetic was described as "a new type of ether—highly refined and modified by addition of certain gases which give to it these new and desirable characteristics."

"Its ability to produce insensibility to pain without loss of consciousness opens up an entirely new field of usefulness including the large class of operations which now are performed without any attempt whatever to eliminate pain," said the company's announcement.

TOPICS OF INTEREST

How to Gain Flesh, Strength and Greater Power of Endurance.

Simply drink plenty of good, plain water and take a little Systoxem after meals, is the tip now going the rounds in well informed circles. Many who try this simple home method are agreeably surprised at the rapid increase in weight, strength and power of endurance. They say it quickly helps put renewed vim and energy into the veins of old folks and is a regular boon to thin, weak, nervous, rundown young people, often increasing their weight and strength in three weeks' time. One well-known writer on body-building, health, etc., says: "It is just like giving sunshine and water to a withering plant."

Clarke's Drug Store, Moore's Drug Store, Harmening's Drug Store, and other leading druggists of this city have tremendous increases in the sale of Systoxem since it has become known that this compound and ordinary drinking water help the blood turn the food we eat into solid, healthy tissue, and also induce a feeling of renewed energy, strength and power of endurance.—Adv.

28 NEW WELLS

EACH WELL PRODUCING FROM $12,000 TO $240,000 WORTH OF GAS PER MONTH

OUR PROPOSITION

Liberty Gas & Oil Development Company is a co-partnership with interests represented by shares, the total capital will be $200,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $100 par value.

Our plan is to drill at least six wells—one on our Wyant Lease on the edge of the Snake Hollow Pool, two on our Kaler Lease across the Youghiogheny River from Snake Hollow, and three on our Orth Lease directly on the Murraysville Anticlinal at White Oak Level Road. This last lease, while about 1¼ miles from the new gushers in Snake Hollow, is entirely surrounded by good gas wells in the Murraysville and Elizabeth sands which have been producing for years. No wells in this territory have gone down to the other sands. We intend if necessary to penetrate the following "paysands" in at least three wells, "Murraysville," "Elizabeth," "Speechley," "Bradford," "Sheffield" and "Kane" and the first three sands in all wells. This will give us 27 chances of getting production in our first six wells; either gas or oil. If we spend our entire capital and get one small 1,000,000 foot well we will be able to pay nearly 25% dividends annually. So it's not much of a risk.

We will have sufficient money to carry our plans through without any assessments. Public liability, fire and other insurance safeguards will be taken for the protection of our interests.

Ninety per cent. of the net income will be distributed to our shareholders in dividends; the balance will be used for further development on other leases to be acquired, thus assuring a permanent and lasting organization.

Our organization personnel is composed of John H. Orth and Dr. P. E. Matthews, of McKeesport, and Herbert Beamer, business analyst, of Pittsburgh. This assures our shareholders of competent and trustworthy management.

We are offering a limited number of shares to the general public and we reserve the right to reject any oversubscriptions.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

AUTHOR OF "TARZAN OF THE APES" "SON OF TARZAN"

COPYRIGHT A.C. McCLURG & CO. 1916

CHAPTER XI.

A Priestess but Yet a Woman.

At first La closed her eyes and clung to Tarzan in terror, though she made no outcry; but presently she gained sufficient courage to look about her, to look down at the ground beneath, and even to keep her eyes open during the wide, perilous swings from tree to tree, and then there came over her a sense of safety because of her confidence in the perfect physical creature in whose strength and nerve and agility her fate lay. A strange anomaly was La of Opar—a creature of circumstance torn by conflicting emotions. Now the cruel and bloodthirsty creature of a heartless god and again a melting woman filled with compassion and tenderness. Sometimes the incarnation of jealousy and revenge and sometimes a sobbing maiden, generous and forgiving; at once a virgin and a wanton; but always—a woman. Such was La.

A hapless priest seeking shelter in the jungle chanced to show himself to enraged Tantor. The great beast turned to one side, bore down upon the crooked little man, snuffed him out, and then, diverted from his course, blundered away toward the south. In a few minutes even the noise of his trumpeting was lost in the distance.

Tarzan dropped to the ground and La slipped to her feet from his back. "Call your people together," said Tarzan.

"They will kill me," replied La.

"They will not kill you," contradicted the ape-man. "No one will kill you while Tarzan of the Apes is here. Call them and we will talk with them."

La raised her voice in a weird, flutelike call that carried far into the jungle on every side. From near and far came answering shouts in the barking tones of the Oparian priests: "We come! We come!" Again and again, La repeated her summons until singly and in pairs the greater portion of her following approached and halted a short distance away from the high priestess and her savior. They came with scowling brows and threatening mien. When all had come Tarzan addressed them.

"Your La is safe," said the ape-man. "Had she slain me she would now herself be dead and many more of you; but she spared me that I might save her. Go your way with her back to Opar, and Tarzan will go his way into the jungle. Let there be peace always between Tarzan and La. What is your answer?"

The priests grumbled and shook their heads. They spoke together and La and Tarzan could see that they were not favorably inclined toward the proposition. They did not wish to take La back and they did wish to complete the sacrifice of Tarzan to the Flaming God. At last the ape-man became impatient.

"You will obey the commands of your queen," he said, "and go back to Opar with her or Tarzan of the Apes will call together the other creatures of the jungle and slay you all. La saved me that I might save you and her. I know not where the sacred knife is; but you can fashion another. Had I not taken it from La you would have slain me and now your god must be glad that I took it since I have saved his priestess from love-mad Tantor. Will you go back to Opar with La, promising that no harm shall befall her?"

The priests gathered together in a little knot arguing and discussing. It became evident to Tarzan that one of their number was preventing the acceptance of his proposal. This was the high priest, whose heart was filled with jealous rage because La openly acknowledged her love for the stranger, when by the world customs of their cult she should have belonged to him. Seemingly there was to be no solution of the problem, until another priest stepped forward and, raising his hand, addressed La.

"Cadj, the high priest," he announced, "would sacrifice you both to the Flaming God; but all of us except Cadj would gladly return to Opar with our queen."

"You are many against one," spoke up Tarzan. "Why should you not have your will? Go your way with La to Opar, and if Cadj interferes slay him."

The priests of Opar welcomed this suggestion with loud cries of approval. They rushed forward and seized Cadj. They talked in loud, menacing tones into his ear. They threatened him with bludgeon and knife until at last he acquiesced in their demands, though sullenly, and then Tarzan stepped close before Cadj.

"Priest," he said, "La goes back to her temple under the protection of her priests and the threat of Tarzan of the Apes that whoever harms her shall die. Tarzan will go again to Opar before the next rains, and if harm has befallen La, woe betide Cadj the high priest."

Sullenly Cadj promised not to harm his queen.

"Protect her," cried Tarzan to the other Oparians. "Protect her so that when Tarzan comes again he will find La there to greet him."

"La will be there to greet thee," exclaimed the high priestess, "and La will wait, longing, always longing, until you come again. Oh, tell me that you will come!"

"Who knows?" asked the ape-man as he swung quickly into the trees and raced off toward the east.

For a moment La stood looking after him, then her head drooped, a sigh escaped her lips, and like an old woman she took up the march toward distant Opar.

"Protect Her," Cried Tarzan.

LACK OF LIGHTS INTERFERES WITH SPORTS PROGRAM

Game at Armory Between Connellsville and Uniontown Legions Postponed.

High School Floor Team Holds Own at That Place Until Third Quarter When Disaster Overtakes It; Unity Fraternity Plays Next Wednesday.

A basketball game and a volley ball contest, the former to have been played at the armory and the latter at the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A., were both postponed last night on account of the lights going off just shortly before it was time for the game to begin.

The game at the armory was to have been played between the American Legion team of this city and the Legion quintet of Uniontown. The visitors had arrived, and all men were in uniform but after waiting until 9:20, the countysealers gathered up their luggage and returned.

The armory was partially lighted by the use of gas lamps along the walls. This gave a glare sufficient for dancing and that part of the program was carried out. The game will be played off here next Friday evening.

The advertising for a game between the Unitey Fraternity and the Leisenring A. A. five is being placed. The game will be on Wednesday, January 21, at the armory. The frat also has a game scheduled with the Scottdale Y. M. C. A. Seniors for Tuesday evening, January 27.

John Donnelly, the Uniontown sailor-fighter, who has been hinting at his desire to meet "Bill" Carter of this city may be given an opportunity to do so soon, it is whispered about in the fistic circles.

* * * *

"Newt" Wilson, proprietor of the Wilson alleys, is able to be out again after an illness with grip. He will again get to work on preparing to send a team to the ten-pin tournament in Pittsburg next month.

* * * *

The high school basketball team lost to Latrobe last night in a game at that place, 34-24. During a slow period on the Cokers part in the third quarter, Latrobe broke away and got a lead sufficient to win the contest. The Connellsville team led at the end of the first quarter, 8-6. At the close of the first half the game was still in doubt, the Latrobe quintet being only one point ahead of the local basketeers. The score stood at 14-13. After the home team took the lead in the next period, however, Connellsville could not cut down the breach.

The Mount Pleasant Superiors last night defeated the Douglas five of Pittsburg, 25-16, in a game played at the armory in Mount Pleasant.

MUCH INTEREST IN D. T. H. S. PLAY AT LEISENRING

Camaign of Publicity For Event is Conducted Over Township By Students.

RECORD PRICE FOR "COLE"

That Is What Keffers Man Paid, Writes Courier Correspondent; Rabbit Dog Missing Several Days Returns to Owner; Other News of the District.

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, Jan. 17—Quite an interest was awakened in the senior class play at the Dunbar township high school last evening, and a large number of local patrons and eighth grade pupils attended. It is a feature of the management of the high school to have the eighth grade pupils present in order to show them that the high school is a good place to continue their education.

The pupils of the sophomore class of the high school were accorded a half holiday Wednesday in order that they might visit every school in the township where eighth grade pupils expect to graduate, and set forth in an appropriate address the objects and opportunities of the high school, and give an urgent invitation to each eighth grade pupil to attend, complimenting them with a free ticket to the exercises. Richard Keffer, Courier news boy of Pechin, visited Pechin school, room four, and Miss Thelma Carr of Keffers visited room three of Pechin, each making strong addresses which resulted in a large delegation from Pechin attending the class play. George Hughes visited the Hughes school and from that distant point he won patrons for the play.

Miss Margaret Jeffries of Keffers has entered the Uniontown hospital to undergo a throat operation.

J. D. Ellenberger, West Penn carpenter foreman, has given Keffer station a complete coat of paint, making it look quite respectable.

Mrs. Martha O. Keffer and daughter Helen of Ferguson road have been visiting relatives at Clairton, their former home, for the past two weeks.

A record price for coal was made at Keffers last week when $25 was paid for eight pounds, and the purchaser is not a capitalist either. Nor does he believe the administration has power to lower the price. The man who paid it was Lutelles Linley Cole, and the Cole he purchased is a fine eight-pound son. He proudly asserts that even the Frick company has never had the optimism or courage to pay the extravagant price of "$25 for eight pounds of Cole."

Every community has its droll character, but no community has anything on this section. A well known local character boasts of owning a fine rabbit dog, and meeting a neighbor the other week he delivered himself on this wise: "Well, Charley, I've lost my dog. He's been gone three days, yesterday, today and tomorrow. If he don't soon come back I'll shoot the son-of-a-gun. I'd rather have found $10 than lost that dog." The dog has since returned, and the conclusion is that some one had captured him for a hunt, or to have some fun with his owner. The dog, as Bill Nye says, is now very much attached to his home by means of a trace chain, to prevent his further loss.

No, that peculiar whizzing noise heard in the hills Tuesday was not made by an airplaine. It was most likely indicated that the Palmer presidential boom has escaped from the barefooters and is making its way to the mountains.

Mrs. Murphy Miller of Keffers was visiting Mount Braddock friends yesterday.

George Moyer of the borough is census enumerator for this section, and is getting well on with his work.

Thomas Jeffries, Sr., who has been on the sick list for the past several months, is making but slight improvement, but is just a little more than holding his own.

George W. Sherbon of Uniontown, formerly business manager of the Uniontown News Standard, was in Dunbar and vicinity on business yesterday. Mr. Sherbon has severed his connection with the Standard and is now with the Pittsburg Leader.

C. W. Pyle of Keffers has been visiting friends and relatives in Greene county for the past three weeks. He writes that he is having a royal time.

Thomas B. Kelly has moved from the Dolton house, Keffers, to Mount Braddock. The house he vacated will be occupied by Mrs. Bruce McNair.

Miss Pearl Baker of Pechin has accepted a position with the Baltimore & Ohio at the Connellsville offices. She is a stenographer.

Mrs. C. W. Baker, Mrs. H. L. Brown, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. David Baker and Mrs. J. M. Lincoln, all of Pechin, were Connellsville shoppers this week.

There will be regular services in the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and the Baptist churches here Sunday.

Miss Isabel Scott of Fayette street has accepted a position with the Eureka Fire Brick company at Mount Braddock. She takes the place formerly occupied by Miss Carrie Moore, who was married recently.

The stork paid recent visits to Andy Mader, Pechin, leaving an eight-pound girl; Mrs. Ray Fowler, formerly Miss Carrie Miller of Keffers, a nine-pound boy.

Mrs. Helen McGee of Franklin road was visiting her brother, D. H. McGee, of Uniontown Sunday.

Frank Tenaglio of Pechin is confined to his home nursing a fractured ankle—the result of an accident on New Year's day.

D. S. Leapline and Herbert Baker of Pechin are suffering from grip, but are improving.

Mrs. Frances Weymer of Ferguson was visiting her daughter at South Connellsville this week and attending the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Edna Vernon.

Mrs. E. E. Miller of Keffers was visiting relatives at Mount Pleasant Monday.
